EXHIBIT A

SIXTH: Additional provisions not inconsistent with law set forth in these Articles of Organization:

- I. A manager of the limited liability company shall not be personally liable to the limited liability company or to its members for monetary damages for breach of any duty provided for in Section 17 of the Rhode Island Limited Liability Company Act, as may hereafter be amended (the "Act"), except for (i) liability for breach of the manager's duty of loyalty to the limited liability company or its members, (ii) liability for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) liability imposed pursuant to the provisions of Section 32 of the Act, or (iv) liability for any transaction from which the manager derived an improper personal benefit, unless said transaction was with the informed consent of the members or a majority of the disinterested managers.
- II. The manager or the members of the limited liability company may include provisions in the limited liability company's operating agreement, or the managers may authorize agreements to be entered into with each member, manger, agent or employee, past or present, of the limited liability company (and "Indemnified Person"), for the purpose of indemnifying an Indemnified Person in the manner and to the extent permitted by the Act.
- III. The transferability of the shares of the members of the limited liability company may be limited by the Operating Agreement.
