2) There are certain required provisions that must be included in your organizational document. Organizations seeking exemption under section 501(c)(3) must meet the organizational test. This test ensures that the purposes and assets of your organization are dedicated to 501(c)(3) purposes. In order to meet the organizational test for exemption under section 501(c)(3), your organizational document, Articles of Incorporation, must be amended to include the following provisions:

- a. Said organization is organized exclusively for charitable, religious, educational, and scientific purposes, including, for such purposes, the making of distributions to organizations that qualify as exempt organizations under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or the corresponding section of any future federal tax code.
- b. Upon the dissolution of the organization, assets shall be distributed for one or more exempt purposes within the meaning of section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or corresponding section of any future federal tax code, or shall be distributed to the federal government, or to a state or local government, for a public purpose. Any such assets not disposed of shall be disposed of by the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the principal office of the organization is then located, exclusively for such purposes or to such organization or organizations, as said Court shall determine, which are organized and operated exclusively for such purposes.
