SIXTH: EXHIBIT A

If, for any reason, any member is required to sell his or her interest, or if any member desires to sell his or her interest, he or she shall dispose of his or her interest in the manner set forth herein:

He or she shall notify the Limited Liability Company (LLC) members of his or her desire to sell or transfer by notice, in writing, delivered to the LLC at its principal office, which notice shall contain the proposed transferee, if any, the proposed purchase price, if any, and any other terms of the proposed transaction. The LLC shall, within thirty (30) days thereafter notify the offeror in writing of its intention to purchase all or any part of such interests and the price at which it shall accept the interest. The price at which such interest shall be bought by the LLC shall be the price as then most recently determined by the LLC for the purpose. In the event the offeror disputes the validity of the purchase price determined by the LLC, the offeror may elect to have the price of the offered interest determined by a single appraiser, mutually chosen, at shared offeror/LLC expense. The appraiser shall be an individual who is or has been engaged on a full time basis in the valuation of closely held businesses. The appraised value shall be calculated using the existing ratio of ownership at the appraisal date.
