FIFTH. Provisions dealing with the preemptive rights of shareholders pursuant to Section 7-1.1-24 of the General Laws, 1956, as amended:

No holder of any shares of common stock of this Corporation shall transfer any such stock without first offering this Corporation the opportunity to purchase said shares at the lowest price at which he is willing to dispose of the same. Said offer shall be in writing and shall include a true statement of the names and addresses of the transferee or transferees to whom said stockholder intends to transfer his shares if his said offer is not accepted by the Corporation as hereinafter provided. Said offer and statement shall be addressed and delivered to the Secretary of the Corporation (or in case the stockholder making such offer by the Secretary, then to the President) and the Secretary or the President, as the case may be, shall thereupon call or cause to be called a special meeting of the Board of Directors, or if no Board of Directors, then of the stockholders of the Corporation, to be held within twenty (20) days after the receipt of said offer for the purpose of taking action with respect to the same. This Corporation, through its Board of Directors, or if no Board of Directors, then its stockholders, shall have ten (10) days after the time fixed for the holding of such special meeting of the Board of Directors, or if no Board of Directors, then of the stockholders, to accept or reject said offer, and until action thereof shall be taken or until the expiration of said ten (10) days, whichever shall first occur, no transfer of any of said shares shall be made by the stockholder submitting the offer. If, however, the Corporation shall reject said offer, or if no action shall be taken by the Board of Directors, or if no Board of Directors, then by the stockholders, prior to the expiration of said ten (10) days, said stockholder, shall then offer said shares to the other common stockholders of the Corporation, such offer to such stockholders to be in proportion to their respective existing common stockholdings in the Corporation. Said stockholders shall have ten (10) days from the receipt of the written offer from the stockholder proposing to sell his shares to accept or reject said offer and to pay the purchase price of said shares to the selling stockholder. If any one or more of said stockholders shall not elect to purchase his or her proportionate part of the shares contained in said offer, then the remaining common stockholders shall have the right to purchase said shares in proportion to their respective individual common shareholdings in the Corporation, with the end in view that no transfer of any shares of the common stock of this Corporation shall be made to any person who is not a common stockholder, unless either the Corporation itself or the common stockholders shall have the opportunity to purchase the shares which it is desired to sell. If neither the Corporation or the stockholders shall purchase said shares, then the stockholder who intends to transfer his shares may transfer said shares to any person within three (3) months after the rejection to sell said shares to the Corporation or the other stockholders as the case may be. No future offer to transfer said shares shall be made by any such stockholder without again complying with the provisions hereof. All transfers of the common stock of this Corporation (except transfers upon the death of a stockholder from his estate to his next of kin or to the legatee or legatees named in his will or transfers by a gift inter vivos to any member of the stockholder's family) are intended to be included in the prohibitions of this paragraph, including but, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, a transfer by virtue of a pledge, attachment or other encumbrance. Any transfer contrary to the foregoing provisions shall be void. The Corporation by resolution of its Board of Directors, or if no Board of Directors, then of the stockholders, adopted at a meeting of such Directors, or if no Directors, then of the stockholders, duly held for that purpose may waive the provision hereof with respect to any particular transfer.
