Dear Sir:

On behalf of the above-named limited partnerships, I enclose for recording with the Secretary of State's records a copy of a Court Order and Sheriff's Bill of Sale relating to Mrs. Elizabeth V. Bogosian's former partnership interests. Although I believe your office has received copies of these documents previously, I request that you include them with the partnership records for each of the above-mentioned partnerships.

R.I. Gen. Laws § 7-13-40 is clear that the assignment of "a partnership interest" in a limited partnership entitles the assignee to receive, to the extent assigned, only the distribution to which the assignor would be entitled. Specifically:

Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partnership interest is assignable in whole or in part. An assignment of a partnership interest does not dissolve a limited partnership or entitle the assignee to become or to exercise any rights of a partner. An assignment entitles the assignee to receive, to the extent assigned, only the distribution to which the assignor would be entitled. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partner ceases to be a partner upon assignment of all his partnership interest.

Kindly note the records of these partnerships accordingly. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

ORDER

This matter came before this Honorable Court, Justice Stephen Fortunato, presiding, on April 14, 2000 on the motion of Judgment Creditor, Keven A. McKenna, P.C., upon its post judgment verified petition, utilizing trustee process, to satisfy its execution in the amount of $135,730.66 in the matter of Keven A. McKenna, P.C. v. Elizabeth Bogosian, C.A.#97-5724, from judgment debtor's, Elizabeth V. Bogosian, partnerships interests in various limited partnerships, which are respondents in the above action. After review of the verified pleadings, affidavits of the parties, constable's returns of the execution, and of the various summonses, and upon the representation of the parties responding, and upon hearing on the objections of Elizabeth V. Bogosian, the Court makes following findings:

1. The Court finds that the execution in the matter of Keven A. McKenna, P.C. v. Elizabeth V. Bogosian, 97-C.A.#97-5724, was returned by the constable unsatisfied.
2. Elizabeth V. Bogosian, as of April 10, 2000, owes Keven A. McKenna, P.C. the sum of $135,730.66 and the costs of the sheriff.
3. The Court finds, based upon the affidavits of Elizabeth Bogosian and the third party partnerships and corporation respondents that Elizabeth V. Bogosian holds partnership interests in the limited partnerships set forth in the petition, which, as intangible personal property, as defined by statute, are subject to a Sheriff's sale, in a manner similar to the sale of stock in corporation.
4. The Court further finds, based upon the representations of the respondent limited partnerships, that there are at present no funds due to Elizabeth V. Bogosian's limited partnership interests to distribute to the judgement creditor, Keven A. McKenna, P.C.
5. The Court finds that judgment debtor, Elizabeth V. Bogosian is unwilling to pay the execution of the judgment creditor.
6. The Court finds that there is no evidence to support the defense of the judgment creditor, Elizabeth Bogosian, of judicial estoppel. There is no evidence that either the petitioner corporation or its stockholder took a position in another legal proceeding contrary to the position taken in this matter. Moreover, such estoppel defense was raised in the underlying case and judgment was entered against Respondent. The principle of res-adjudicata applies and bars Bogosian's defense.

7. The Court further finds further that a charging order is not an exclusive remedy of a judgment creditor against the personal property interests of member of a partnership who is a judgment debtor, and that interests in a partnership may be sold in the same manner as stock interests in a corporation.

Based upon those facts and the verified complaint, the returns of the constable, and the arguments of the parties responding, it is therefore hereby,

ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED, as follows:

1. Keven A. McKenna, P.C., as judgment creditor, is hereby granted a post judgment writ of attachment upon each of the general partnership interests of the judgment debtor, Elizabeth V. Bogosian, in each of the Respondent Limited Partnerships, and upon any interest that Elizabeth V. Bogosian may have, as a partner, in funds being held by such respondent partnerships for distribution to Elizabeth Bogosian in her capacity as a partner in such limited partnerships, to the extent of a sum of money equal to the amount of the Petitioner's unsatisfied execution, to wit, $135,730.66, plus interest and costs, until the Petitioner, Keven A. McKenna, P.C. is paid the sums due to it.

2. The individual partnership interests of the judgment debtor, Elizabeth V. Bogosian in the Respondent Limited Partnerships are hereby charged with the payment of unsatisfied execution of the judgment creditor, Keven A. McKenna, P.C. the sum of $135,730.66, plus interest and costs until the Petitioner, Keven A. McKenna, P.C. is paid the sums due to it.
3. To the extent that such interests do not satisfy such unpaid execution before April 20, 2000, the Sheriff of Kent County shall forthwith levy upon, and sell such partnership interests of the judgment debtor, Elizabeth V. Bogosian, in each of the respondent limited partnerships, in seriatim, and, if necessary by batch sale, after advertisement in a publication of state wide circulation, at auction, in the same manner as set forth in the provisions of R.I.G.L. § 9-26-23, and § 9-26-4, as such sale or sales are required to satisfy such unpaid execution, interests, and costs of the Petitioner and of the Sheriff. After sale, the Sheriff shall thereafter provide to such person or entity buying any or all of such interests, a bill of sale for each such interest sold, as the case may be; and, the secretary of each respondent limited partnerships of which such interest of the judgement debtor is sold, shall then record on the books of the limited partnership the name of the person or entity purchasing such interest; and, the names of such purchasers shall then be
