5. Provisions (if any) dealing with the preemptive right of shareholders pursuant to §7-1.1-24 of the General Laws, 1956, as amended:

No stock in the corporation shall be transferred to a person who is not already a stockholder unless the stock shall have been offered by a writing for sale first to the corporation and then to each other stockholder at the price and on the same terms as would govern a transfer to a person not a stockholder. The writing shall set forth the price and terms and shall be sent by registered mail first to the corporation and, if rejected, then to each stockholder at the address listed on the corporation's books. The right to transfer the stock to a person not a stockholder shall not exist until the corporation and all existing stockholders refuse the offer made as provided above or until they fail for a period of twenty (20) days after receipt of the written offer to accept the same by compliance with the terms set forth. Regulations as to the formalities and procedure to be followed in effecting the transfer shall be prescribed in the by-laws of the corporation; and provided further, that notice of the existence of such provisions be noted conspicuously on the face or back of each and every certificate of shares subject to the terms and conditions of any such agreement.
